For example, the economist on the task force charged with revising university revenue distribution policies may be performing professional service but the English professor would be engaged in university citizenship.

Sample Letter to Request an External Evaluation for Tenure-Track Faculty, Research Excellence

(Schools may develop their own letters, but they should use the same format and general content to contact all persons asked to provide evaluations. Pay special attention that the letter asks the reviewers to comment on the appropriate type of case being sought by each specific candidate.)

Dear _____:

Professor _____ is being considered for (promotion and/or tenure) at the rank of _____ in the Department of _____ within the School of _____ at Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI). We would be particularly grateful for your comments on the depth and significance of Professor _____'s work and its impact in your field. To assist in this evaluation, we are providing a packet of relevant materials, including (his/her) curriculum vitae; a copy of (his/her) personal statement; A MINI-DOSSIER OF RELEVANT MATERIALS [PER SCHOOL PRACTICE] and our criteria for (promotion and/or tenure).

Professor _____ has identified research/creative activity as his/her area of excellence and therefore this is the area where evaluation by peers is most important.

Please comment on Professor _____'s research [or creative activity]. We welcome your evaluation of the quality of the publications and journals that have been listed, as well as comments on any creative work or exhibition media. IUPUI is dedicated to multidisciplinary research. Please keep this in mind as you review this candidate's scholarship. We would also appreciate any comments you might care to make concerning Professor _____'s contributions to professional organizations or to (his/her) discipline through professional service activities or publications.

Please focus your review on the quality and impact of the candidate's work. We are not asking you to recommend for or against promotion or tenure, nor are we asking if the candidate might receive promotion or tenure at your institution.

The IUPUI Promotion and Tenure Guidelines require that requested references come from individuals with no close connections to the candidate (i.e., former or current mentors, students, co-authors, research partners). Therefore, if such a conflict exists, please let us know as soon as possible that you will not be able to serve as a reviewer in this case. If you are able to serve as a reviewer, please complete the External Referee Form and return it with your review summary. Also, please include a copy of your vitae or a brief biography / biosketch to provide reviewers at all campus levels with a context for your comments.

We hope you understand how much we appreciate your assistance as we consider Professor _____'s candidacy. It is important for us to understand (his/her) contributions from a perspective beyond our campus. We are aware of the time a review such as this takes and understand it can be difficult commitment to make, but we assure you that your help with this process is invaluable.

Your letter will be seen by a group of faculty members serving in a promotion and/or tenure advisory capacity. Secondarily: Either –
Excellence in professional development—the candidate must show a continued significant contribution at the state, regional, national, or international level.

Or –
Excellence in service—the candidate must show a continued significant contribution at the community, state, regional, national, or international level.

Tertiary: For either area not chosen as secondary, performance must be at least satisfactory.

In order to evaluate objectively the criterion of state, regional, or national recognition in the library profession, we depend heavily upon the opinions of prominent colleagues outside IUPUI who are knowledgeable in the field of specialization of the candidate. Your frank appraisal of the candidate's contributions to the profession is very important. SUPPLEMENT FOR LETTERS FOR INTEGRATIVE DEI CASES-Tenure track

In 2021, IUPUI designed a case type for promotion and tenure that incorporates two distinct innovations while remaining faithful to the purposes of universities and the mission of IUPUI. Information on this case type and its development can be found here

There are six criteria for the case, and three of them are the same as any traditional tenure-track case:

- Independence, innovation, and initiative: candidates are clear about their own unique roles.
- Future plans: candidates lay out a plan for future growth and development.
- Scholarly impact: candidates are expected to engage in scholarly communication appropriate to the topic and discipline, adding to generalizable knowledge. This is most commonly manifested in peer-reviewed publications and presentations.

There are three which are innovations:

- Philosophy: the candidate is expected to describe and show how an intentional philosophy advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion underlies their work. Every candidate's specific case will be unique, and it is in the DEI philosophy statement that they explain their own particular emphasis. One candidate may focus on health disparities, another on educational advancement, etc.
- Integrated activity: in this case, we recognize that individual activities and areas of work are not always neatly and solely attributable to "research" "teaching" and "service." A service-learning course that results in a peer-reviewed publication may involve all three, for example. The integration allows for a faculty member's work to be valued and accounted for in promotion or tenure without excluding items because they do not seem to be solely "research" or other traditional categories.
- Direct impact: This refers to work that faculty members do that directly benefits specific individuals or groups. This type of work has often been labelled—and ignored—as "service," yet it is often of high quality, broad impact, and of great value to a department, school, or university. Mentoring underrepresented students, designing recruitment and retention programs for underrepresented faculty, working with community groups on improving lifelong educational development: all of these can be examples of work that benefits both the university and the participants.

The combination of all six aspects, considered holistically and cumulatively, is considered when assessing whether someone has achieved an overall excellence of benefit to the university (the "balanced case" in Indiana University policy language.)

To achieve promotion (and tenure if applicable) the candidate is expected to provide descriptions of their work, along with concrete evidence of quality and impact. Some of the indicators of quality and impact are:

- Scope: the number of people, events, tasks, and other elements involved: more is better.
- Difficulty/challenge: initiatives addressing issues that are both important and have proven difficult to improve: more difficulty the better.
- Innovation/creativity: initiatives where the candidate provides unique and creative ideas, rather than applying known examples: the more innovative, the better.
- Success/outcomes: achievement of planned or secondary objectives—the more successful the better.
- Adoption by others: e.g. citations, use in courses, use in other communities or organizations: the more wide-spread beyond IUPUI, the better.

To adapt for clinical, for “scholarly impact” substitute this:

- Scholarly impact: candidates are expected to engage in relevant peer-reviewed dissemination that supports their teaching or service.

To adapt for lecturer, for “scholarly” impact substitute this:

- Scholarly impact for teaching professors: candidates are expected to engage in peer-reviewed scholarship which supports their teaching. Senior lecturer candidates may do so but are not required to do so; their efforts are primarily on supporting and improving teaching and learning in their units.

SUPPLEMENT SUGGESTIONS FOR LETTERS FOR INTEGRATIVE THEMATIC CASES

Use the Integrative DEI case supplement, substituting the specific theme chosen by the candidate.

For publicly/community-engaged scholars, consider incorporating the PESCR rubric for evaluation found on these pages.

Departments may also choose to design case guides for themes of particular importance for their faculty and students. Some examples could be:

- Interprofessional education
- Translational research
- Global learning
